

Confucius Institute at Cleveland State University 2009 Teachers' Day Celebration

Dr. Lih-Ching Chen Wang (陳麗卿), Dr. James McLoughlin (詹姆士·密可腊克林) and Ms. Wendy Densmore

上接 P1

Ms. Luling Li from the Shaker Heights City School District also gave a brief welcome and spoke of the help that the Confucius Institute at CSU has provided her in her teaching of Chinese language and culture. The last speaker of the day was Ms. Hannah Firestone, a seventh grader, from the Beachwood City School District. She gave a report on the life of Confucius.

The speeches were followed by a group picture of all participants and then the group walked to the Cleveland's Chinese Cultural Garden to watch the planting of three cherry trees donated by Mr. Yen near the statue of Confucius, a tradition in celebration of Confucius's birthday and his continuing influence on education as well as in honor of teachers and educators around the world. Many participants took turns with the shovels.

After the tree planting ceremony, all participants were invited to Li Wah Chinese restaurant where a delicious lunch was enjoyed by all. Students were able to tour the Asia plaza after lunch and make purchases in the local Chinese shops.
