MALTZ MUSEUM OF JEWISH HERITAGE

Final Days: About the Right of Being Different at Maltz Museum Progressive Art Exhibition to close June 26

Cleveland, Ohio - June 13, 2011 - "Spectacular". "Edgy". "Not to be missed". These are several of the ways About The Right of Being Different: The Art of Diversity and Inclusion at Progressive has been described. Soon "no longer showing" will be added to that list. The exhibition at the Maltz Museum of Jewish Heritage will close on Sunday, June 26.

This provocative show of contemporary art from the collection of The Progressive Corporation has challenged and enlightened thousands of visitors. The stunning collection explores themes of diversity and tolerance, with artworks ranging from painting and sculpture to video installation. Works from well-established artists with international recognition share space with works from emerging artists, all curated exclusively for the Maltz Museum.

This exhibition is presented through the generosity of Presenting Sponsor Baker Hostetler with support from The Alvin, Lottie, Rachel and Azzizi Gray Fund, Toby Devan Lewis and Stewart and Donna Kohl. The Museum is generously funded by Cuyahoga County residents through Cuyahoga Arts and Culture. Additional support from the Ohio Arts Council, which helps fund the Museum with state tax dollars to encourage economic growth, educational excellence, and cultural enrichment for all Ohioans.

About Maltz Museum of Jewish Heritage: The Museum of Diversity and Tolerance

Opened in 2005, the Maltz Museum of Jewish Heritage introduces visitors to the beauty and diversity of that heritage in the context of the American experience, promotes an understanding of Jewish history, religion and culture and builds bridges of tolerance and understanding with people of all religions, races, cultures and ethnic backgrounds. It includes An American Story, tracing Ohio's immigrant history and heritage, and The Temple-Tifereth Israel Gallery, an internationally-recognized collection of Judaica. One admission fee includes unlimited access, and all levels of membership include unlimited admission.
