

Correct The Record Calls on John Kasich to State his Position on Universal Registration

Washington, DC – Correct The Record is calling on John Kasich to state his position on universal, automatic voting registration.

Last Thursday, Hillary Clinton called for universal registration of eligible voters when they turn 18. Does John Kasich also support universal voter registration?

As governor, John Kasich restricted the rights of eligible Americans to vote. John Kasich signed into law legislation that cut early voting and eliminated same-day registration – policies that would make voting more difficult. While John Kasich worked to suppress voters, Hillary Clinton is fighting to ensure that every eligible American has a voice in our democracy.

Will John Kasich continue his efforts to silence eligible voters at the ballot box, or will he support Hillary Clinton's proposal to expand the right to vote through universal voter registration?

Kasich on Voting Rights

John Kasich signed into law legislation “that cut early voting and eliminated same-day registration in his state.” “Kasich, the governor of Ohio – for years the most important presidential swing state – signed legislation this year that cut early voting and eliminated same-day registration in his state—making it harder for minorities to get to the polls. That law, too, drew charges that it violated the VRA, and a trial is likely later this year.”

Cleveland Plain-Dealer Editorial Board: John Kasich's voting legislation was “a breathtaking bid to suppress voting despite constitutional guarantees of voting rights.” “Ohio's Republican-run General Assembly has now passed three bills aimed at holding down voting by black or low-income Ohioans, a breathtaking bid to suppress voting despite constitutional guarantees of voting rights. Unwisely, Republican Gov. John Kasich has signed all of them into law. Cuyahoga County Executive Ed Fitzgerald, Kasich's likely Democratic opponent for governor in the fall, has already announced he intends -- if he can get County Council's support -- to test one of the new laws, Substitute Senate Bill 205. It forbids anyone but the secretary of state's office from sending out unsolicited absentee ballot applications.”

Voting Rights in Ohio

In Ohio, the GOP legislature passed three voter suppression bills “aimed at holding down voting by black or low-income Ohioans.” “Ohio's Republican-run General Assembly has now passed three bills aimed at holding down voting by black or low-income Ohioans, a breathtaking bid to suppress voting despite constitutional guarantees of voting rights. Unwisely, Republican Gov. John Kasich has signed all of them into law.”

Ohio's 2013 law that cut back on early voting and same day registration is “wrong-headed.” “One bill would abolish so-called ‘Golden Week’ voting. No matter how constructively meant -- and this editorial board has acknowledged that Golden Week voting can cause headaches for election boards -- that's wrong-headed. The aim of election law should be to maximize voter participation, not limit it. The bill would limit it. ‘Golden Week’ is the period when newly registered voters can, in some circumstances, cast absentee ballots immediately after they register. First, Amended Senate Bill 238 would reduce the number of absentee-voting days by six -- from the current 35 days before an election down to 29 days before an election. (Absentee ballots for men and women in the armed forces and for overseas voters would continue to be available 45 days before an election.)”

Editorial: “Republicans would have had no reason to pass these nakedly partisan measures if they were confident of their future and sure of their ideas.” “Voters are supposed to pick governments; governments aren't supposed to pick voters. Ohio Republicans would have had no reason to pass these nakedly partisan measures if they were confident of their future and sure of their ideas. Obviously, they aren't.”

Correct The Record is a strategic research and rapid response team designed to defend Hillary Clinton from right-wing, baseless attacks.
