

Beijing Dance Theater Makes Ohio Debut

presented by Tri-C Performing Arts, DANCECleveland and Cleveland Public Library

CLEVELAND — Beijing Dance Theater, a world-class Chinese contemporary dance organization, will make its Ohio debut at Playhouse Square as part of the Tri-C Performing Arts season presented by Cuyahoga Community College (Tri-C).

The group's American tour stops in Cleveland for performances at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 2, and 2 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 3, at the Ohio Theatre. The programs are co-presented by Tri-C, DANCECleveland and Cleveland Public Library.

"We are fortunate to have this unique company perform in Cleveland and to present them in partnership with DANCECleveland and the Cleveland Public Library," said Terri Pontremoli, director of Tri-C Performing Arts and Tri-C JazzFest.

Founded in 2008, Beijing Dance Theater is led by choreographer Wang Yuanyuan and visual artists Tan Shaoyuan and Hanjiang. The group collaborates with internationally renowned dramatists, musicians and designers to create works with dynamic sets and imaginative choreography.

The February performances in Cleveland feature a mixed repertoire of pieces from Beijing Dance Theater's Hamlet, Wild Grass and Crossing.

Audiences will see:

* The story of Shakespeare's Hamlet reimagined in the universal language of ballet, with dance movements capturing the prince's struggles with the fallout from his father's murder.

* A trance-like fantasia experienced through Chinese writer Lu Xun's Wild Grass, with the piece as beautiful in its design as it is confounding in its movement.

* An evolving set asymmetrical in form as Crossing progresses through performance solos, duets and trios that pit lyrical movement against the stark realities of space and sound.

Tickets range from $25 to $45 and can be purchased at www.playhousesquare.org or by calling 216-241-6000. Each show includes moderated pre- and post-show talks with performers and producers.

This presentation is supported by the Arts Midwest Touring Fund: China on Tour, a program of Arts Midwest that is funded by the National Endowment for the Arts.

Tri-C's 2018-2019 Performing Arts season

features 10 productions showcasing classical piano, jazz and dance. It is designed to bring a world-class artistic experience to the Greater Cleveland community. To learn more, visit www.tri-c.edu/performingarts.

Delicate, beautiful and filled with technically superb dancers, BDT's works create a meeting point where both traditional Chinese culture influences the movement and innovation pushes the company forward through thought-provoking contemporary choreography.

Born and raised in Beijing, Wang Yuanyuan began her dance journey at the Beijing Dance Academy and later went on to be named the resident choreographer of the National Ballet of China. She furthered her studies at the California Institute of Arts School of Dance in Los Angeles, where she completed a Master of Fine Arts in 2002 and in 2015, she received her Honorary Fellowship from The Hong Kong Academy for Performing Arts (HKAPA). She was also one of the main choreographers for the Opening Ceremony of the Beijing Olympic Games in 2008. Her works have won numerous awards including 'Best Choreographer' awards at the Varna International Ballet Competition, the USA International Ballet Competition, and the Moscow and Shanghai International Ballet Competitions respectively, making her the most internationally awarded Chinese choreographer to date.

Beijing Dance Theater makes its Ohio debut with two beautifully lush performances featuring three remarkable works. Founded in 2008, Beijing Dance Theater (BDT) is led by its choreographer Wang Yuanyuan together with visual artists Tan Shaoyuan and Hanjiang. The company collaborates with internationally renowned dramatists, musicians and designers to create dance works that excite audiences with visually dynamic sets, and imaginative choreography.
