"We are delighted to help lead the inauguration events for Governor-elect Strickland," said Senator Glenn. "The hope and optimism that marked this campaign for governor will be on full display when we celebrate Ohio's new beginning."

"I am honored to have the support and guidance of John and Annie as we begin our work to Turnaround Ohio," said Governor-elect Strickland. "This inauguration will welcome all Ohioans to join in our shared celebration of hope for a brighter future for our great state."

Also Tuesday, Columbus Mayor Michael

B. Coleman outlined the principles that will guide the transition process.

"We are committed to a transition that is inclusive and draws upon Ohio's talented citizens from all corners of our state," Coleman said. "The top priority of the transition team is to lay the groundwork for Ted and Lee's

CIM CHAMBER MUSIC FESTIVAL TAKES PLACE DECEMBER 1-7

CIM presents its annual Chamber Music Festival from December 1 through December 7 in University Circle. The festival will feature concerts and master classes by the Tokyo String Quartet, as well as concerts by CIM students and faculty featuring string and string/piano, brass and woodwind chamber music. Participation of the Tokyo Quartet is made possible in part by the Dr. Sydney and Gussie B. Klein CIM Chamber Music Ensemble Fund, and in collaboration with the Cleveland Chamber Music Society.

On Friday, December 1 at 8:00 p.m., CIM's Quartet-in-Residence, the Cavani String Quartet, and pianist Sergei Babayan will present a recital featuring works by Dmitri Shostakovich. The program, celebrating the 100th anniversary of the composer's birth, is presented in honor of Mid-West Forge Corporation. Works to be performed include String Quartet No. 1 in F-sharp Minor, Op. 108; String Quartet 8 in C Minor, Op. 110 and Quintet for Two Violins, Viola, Cello and Piano in G Minor, Op. 57.

On Saturday, December 2 at 4:00 p.m., the Cavani String Quartet will coach select high school string quartets in a master class that is free and open to the public.

On Monday, December 4 at 7:00 p.m., the Tokyo String Quartet will coach CIM student ensembles until 10:00 p.m., in master classes that are free and open to the public.

The Chamber Music Festival continues on Monday, December 4 at 8:00 p.m., with a performance of the CIM Woodwind Ensembles, directed by oboist Elizabeth Camus. Fellow Cleveland Orchestra members, Bassoonist Barrick Stees and flutist Joshua Smith, will serve as coaches. The concert, featuring works by Maurice Ravel, Elliott Carter, August Klughardt and W.A. Mozart, is free and open to the public.

On Tuesday, December 5 at 8:00 p.m., Richard Stout will direct the CIM Brass Ensembles in a concert that is free and open to the public.

The Tokyo String Quartet will perform at Fairmount Temple on Tuesday, December 5 at 8:00 p.m.. The concert, presented in collaboration with the Cleveland Chamber Music Society, will feature works by Mozart, Lera Auerbach and Schumann. Tickets are $30, $28 for seniors and $5 for students (pickup only with ID). For tickets, call The Cleveland Chamber Music Society at (216) 291-2777.

On Wednesday, December 6 at 7:00 p.m., students enrolled in the Intensive String Quartet Seminar at CIM will present a Gala Concert featuring the string quartets of Franz Joseph Haydn. This concert is free and open to the public.

The Chamber Music Festival will conclude with a marathon on Thursday, December 7 at 7:00 p.m. Quartets, quintets and trios will perform simultaneously in three locations and refreshments will be served to the audience during breaks. This is a great opportunity for chamber music aficionados to spend an evening and build their own program of favorite works. The concert is free and open to the public.
